The rugged shoreline, off-shore islands and series of headlands and deep bays make each day a new adventure. The west coast of Espiritu is studded with some of the most spectacular white, sandy bays you can imagine while the east coast has enormous towering cliffs, bizarre rock formations and alluring sea caves. Each day we will have plenty of time to snorkel, swim with sea lion pups, hike intriguing volcanic arroyos, bathe in the glorious Baja sun, watch manta rays leap up out of the water, admire a school of dolphins, explore hidden inland lagoons, sip a margarita and relax in great company. Isla Espiritu Santo really is paddling in paradise!

MEXICO an overview

Bordered by the United States to the north, Pacific Ocean to the south, Guatemala, Belize and the Caribbean sea to the south east and the Gulf of Mexico to the east. Mexico is crossed north to south by two mountain ranges known as Sierra Madre Oriental and Sierra Madre Occidental, which are extension of the Rocky Mountains from northern North America. From east to west at the centre, the country is crossed by the Trans-Mexican volcanic belt, also known as, the Sierra Nevada. A fourth mountain range, the Sierra Madre del Sur, runs from Michoacan to Oxaca. The Tropic of Cancer divides Mexico into temperate and tropical zones, both with constant temperatures. Home to a vast range of wildlife and geographic mountain regions, Mexico is the perfect destination for any adventure.
