COSTA RICA an overview

Eco-diversity like no other - Costa Rica encases 500,000 different species which account for roughly 4% of the world's plant, insect and wildlife species. Witness Sloths, Monkeys, Frogs, Snakes, Turtles, Iguanas, Humming Birds and so much more. Wander through tranquil bird-packed cloud forests and rich rainforests brimming with a plethora of spectacular wildlife. As well as its head-turning abundance of wildlife, this Central American paradise is famed for its never-ending activities, making it an adventure-seeker's dream; the vast array of activities widely on offer include Zip-lining, White-Water Rafting and Trekking. The incredibly beautiful east and west shores that run down the sides of Costa Rica display gorgeous paradise beaches lined with jungle, such as the secluded sandy stretches of the laid-back Caribbean coastline and the 'sun and surf' pacific stretches containing some great marine life. Become acquainted with the warm friendly locals, offering huge smiles, an easy-going manner and 'Pura Vida's. Despite receiving a heavy influx of tourists in recent years, there are still some extraordinary hidden gems and quiet spots to be found which will allow the more adventurous of tourists to experience nature, activities and culture that the typical tourists let pass them by.

GETTING AROUND

- The taxi boats between Jaco and Montezuma hold 10-29 people and are a great way to get from the mainland to the Nicoya peninsula. The journey itself takes around 1 hour.
- The flight from Tambor to San José will be operated by the Sansa airline. It is recommended to leave some time in-between national and international flights as the Costa Rica's weather conditions can sometimes delay the flights. It usually takes under 90 minutes to fly to most destinations.

WHEN TO GO...

It is important to keep in mind that the weather varies in every region in Costa Rica as in forests the weather is generally more humid; however North Pacific areas tend to have a lower temperature. Costa Rica is a tropical country and it is located close to the equator, however the weather pattern varies in different zones across the country. As Costa Rica is located close to the equator the hours of sunshine only slightly change throughout the year. The warm weather of Costa Rica attracts many families, newlyweds and adventurers to experience this "One of the most biologically intense places on earth" as described by the National Geographic.

December - April (Dry Season)

- Peak time for visitors to explore Costa Rica as this season brings a lot of sunshine making it perfect for exploring the rainforests or enjoying the beach.
- The cooler months of the year are November, December and January, however the temperatures during the dry season remain pleasantly in the highs.

May - November (Rainy Season)

- During June and July the rainfall lowers and Costa Rica' forests burst with greenery, however the rest of the months have a higher amount of rainfall.
- The average rainfall in Costa Rica is about 95 inches, however certain rare mountainous areas can get as much as 25 feet of rainfall in a year.
- During the rainy season, the mornings may be sunny, but showers are expected in the afternoons.
